Fix the Paragraph

There seems to be a scarcity of periods and capital letters in student writing. And there also seems to be an overabundance of acronyms and slang. And I ain't capping lol.

Your mission is to save the following paragraph from slang, acronyms, and misused capital letters and periods. Rewrite the paragraph so it doesn't sound cringe, bruh. I mean--rewrite the paragraph so it sounds academic. Good luck.

the school day should start at 9 am or later cuz it is Wack how early it starts starting later would be lit. IMHO students would be more Awake in their classes if they had more ZZZ i know i would be more alert fo sho studies show teens need more sleep than adults no cap. I've Said it once and i will say it again, students deserve more sleep and grades will go up if we start school after nine and those r straight fax.
