

accentuate

(verb)

To make more noticeable or prominent.

The artist used bold colors to accentuate the vibrancy of the sunset in the painting.

despondent

(adjective)

Feeling or showing extreme discouragement, dejection, or depression.

After receiving the rejection letter from her dream job, Sarah felt despondent and uncertain about her future.

unanimous

(adjective)

(of two or more people) fully in agreement.

The board members reached a unanimous decision to approve the budget proposal
for the upcoming fiscal year.

bamboozle

(verb)

1. To fool or cheat someone.
2. To confuse or perplex.

The magician managed to bamboozle the audience with a spectacular disappearing act that left everyone in awe.