Write a Six-Word Story That Sums Up Your School Year

Your task is simple: Write a six-word story that sums up your school year.

Many things happen in a school year. There are ups, downs, victories, failures, and more.

Your mission is to capture this past school year in 6 words. That's right, just 6 words. This means you need to be creative and selective with your word choices.

Perhaps you could write: "I'll miss everyone, just not lunch"

Or maybe you could write: "AP tests are done--major headache."

Or perhaps you could say: "Good times end, memories do not. "

Be creative with your six word story, and be selective with your word choices.
