Writing Prompt: Describe How You Express Your Creative Side

Every person has a creative side. Whether it be drawing, writing, renovating homes, fixing things, building websites, or starting businesses--every person has a desire to innovate and create in a way that is unique to them.

Your mission for this activity is to describe how you express your creative side. Think: what does creativity mean to you? Are there any problems that you enjoy solving? Do you have a creative skill that is important to you? Be sure you are specific with your descriptions. If you enjoy creating new dances, explain your process for doing this. If you like to make sketches of animals, explain how you learned how to do this. If you get excited about playing football and creating innovative plays to fool the defense, explain how you think of these plays.

So once again, your mission is this: Describe how you express your creative side.
