Create a Personalized Reading Plan

Nothing will improve your thinking, writing, and focus more than reading. In fact, there is no better teacher than reading a diverse set of books.

Your mission is to create your personalized reading plan. You (and only you) can find your "why" when it comes to reading and learning. And only you can instill the habit of reading. Here are some guiding questions that will help you create your personalized reading plan. Be sure you write 150 words or more.

- -What books are you going to read this month?
- -What books are you going to read this year?
- -How many books are you going to read this year?
- -How much time each day are you going to read?
- -What is your purpose for reading?
- -How does reading connect with your future goals? -How does reading connect with who you want to become?
