

Name:

Section:

Date:

Score:

What Makes You Come Alive?

Theologian Howard Thurman said,

“Don't ask yourself what the world needs. Ask yourself what makes you come alive, and go do that, because what the world needs is people who have come alive.”

Your mission is to think of something that makes you come alive. Do you enjoy building stuff and working with your hands? Do you like cooking and making creative desserts? Are you infatuated with cars? Are you curious about computer coding? Do you have an obsession with Russian literature?

You need to write about something that makes you come alive, and explain why you enjoy doing that activity. The tricky thing about pinpointing our passions is that we are individuals. There are things we like to do that others don't--and vice versa. The trick is to learn how to follow your heart and listen for the hints it gives you. So get thinking, and write about something that makes you come alive. Then explain what it is about that activity that you like.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

A series of horizontal lines for writing, consisting of 25 evenly spaced lines across the page.

For more resources like this, visit briantolentino.com

