Write a Story That Takes Place in the Desert

Whether it's the Sahara, the Gobi, or the Mojave, your task is to create a compelling story set in the vast, arid expanse of a desert.

Maybe your road trip gets derailed by blowing sand and encounters with giant snakes. Perhaps, during a nighttime bonfire, aliens make an unexpected appearance. Or you could have a close call with a cunning coyote.

Your story could also take you to a bustling bazaar or into a fierce battle against a giant sandworm.

Whatever direction you take, the choice is yours. Just make sure your story is creative, well-written, and rooted in the desert.
