Should High School Students Have Part-Time Jobs? 🚁

Some people believe high school students should have jobs. A job teaches a person responsibility, and how to function in the "real world." Other people believe that high school is a time for learning. Students should focus on their studies and not a job.

You need to take a position on this topic by writing 150 words or more in response to the following question:

Should high school students have part-time jobs?
