The Althean War

The small mountain kingdom of Althea has lived in isolation for centuries, nestled in the shadow of a mystical forest that protects its borders. The people of Althea are farmers, artisans, and storytellers, bound by a deep connection to the land. But one evening, the sky darkens with the banners of an advancing army, its soldiers hungry for the forest's ancient magic.

Write a creative story that captures the battle between Althea and the invading army.
