Write a Story About the Bermuda Triangle

You're part of a small crew aboard a research vessel exploring the mysteries of the Bermuda Triangle. The sky is clear, the water calm. As evening sets in, the equipment starts malfunctioning—compasses spin wildly, radios crackle with static, and the GPS shows your position shifting in impossible ways.

Suddenly, a thick mist rises from the ocean, swallowing the horizon. Through the haze, the outline of an old ship appears—a vessel that went missing over 100 years ago. The crew stares in disbelief as shadowy figures move on its deck. The moon strangely shines red in the background.

Then, your boat's engine cuts out. The mist creeps closer. A voice crackles through the static on the radio: "You shouldn't have come here."

Your mission is to finish the story. Be specific and detailed with your descriptions.
