Give Life Advice

You need to give life advice by using three different complex sentence structures.

Your first sentence needs to start with the word "by."

By being open-minded, you can learn from different perspectives.

Your second sentence needs to start with the word "although."

Although it may seem daunting, try to step out of your comfort zone every day.

Your third sentence needs to start with the word "since."

Since life is unpredictable, it's important to cherish the present moment.
