What if You Lived in a Different Historical Era?

Have you ever imagined the kind of person you'd be if you were born in a different era?

Would you have fought in the Battle of Carthage as a Roman soldier in the 2nd century BCE?

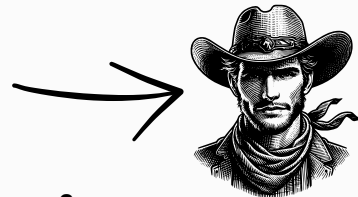

Would you have danced through the Roaring Twenties as a daring flapper?

Could you have been a painter in the heart of the Italian Renaissance?

A scholar exploring the mysteries of the universe during the Islamic Golden Age?

An outlaw riding through the untamed Wild West?

Or perhaps a disciplined Samurai in 18th-century Japan?

Now's your chance to find out.

Write a short story that places you in a different historical period. Be imaginative.

Maybe your best friend is with you in Ancient Greece, arguing with philosophers in the agora.

Maybe you're a conflicted Viking questioning the morality of raiding, or a hunter in Mesopotamia describing your daily survival.

You can mix humor, emotion, action—whatever you like.

Choose a time in history that fascinates you. Then step into it, make it your world, and tell your story.
