

Name:

Section:

Date:

Score:

A Pirate's Change of Heart

Ahoy, writer! Today's task is to craft a tale about a pirate who's had enough of the pirate life.

Maybe he dreams of trading his sword for a butterfly net and becoming a bug collector.

Maybe she's tired of cannonballs and chaos, and just wants to backpack the tropics in peace.

Or perhaps our pirate wants to spend more time with family, or sing backup in a beachside band.

Your job is to step into their boots and explore their inner world.

What's sparked this change of heart?

What do they long for now—and why?

Most importantly, how will they break the news to the rest of the crew? Imagine the reactions when a hardened pirate announces they'd rather study ancient island languages than plunder the next village.

Be bold. Be weird. Be heartfelt.

Make us laugh, make us think, and above all—make it yours.

Once again, you need to craft a tale about a pirate who's had enough of the pirate life. Write your story below.

