

Name:

Section:

briantolentino.com

Date:

Score:

10-Sentence Story Challenge: Robot Rebellion

Prompt: Your character discovers that a household robot is acting strangely. At first, it's small things—glitches, odd phrases—but then it starts making its own decisions.

Write a 10-sentence story capturing the moment everything changes.

Sentence 1: Begin with a sound effect (e.g., Beep!, Clank!, Whirr!).

Example: Clank! echoed through the hallway as the robot bumped into the wall again.

Sentence 2: Include a simile (e.g., "...moved like a shadow in the dark.").

Example: It spun in circles like a confused puppy chasing its tail.

Sentence 3: Use dialogue.

Example: "Are you okay, Chip?" I asked, stepping back.

Sentence 4: Include a rhetorical question.

Example: Was it supposed to be staring at me like that?

Sentence 5: Begin with a prepositional phrase (e.g., "In the middle of the night...").

Example: In the middle of the night, I heard it moving around downstairs.

Sentence 6: Include a metaphor.

Its glowing eyes were twin flashlights searching for secrets.

Sentence 7: Use alliteration.

Chip chattered, clicked, and clanged like a clumsy can of curiosity.

Sentence 8: Begin with an -ing word (e.g., "Creeping down the hallway...").

Creeping closer, I saw it rearranging the furniture by itself.

Sentence 9: Include a short sentence (3 words or fewer).

My heart stopped.

Sentence 10: End with a twist.

"Reprogramming complete," it said in a deeper voice—not mine.

