Secret Mission: Cleaning Edition

Whatever is spoken about at this time must be kept absolutely top secret.

Here's how this mission works:

For this week, your class will work together on one shared objective: keeping a chosen teacher's classroom cleaner than it has ever been.

Your mission could include things like pushing in chairs, picking up trash, organizing supplies, wiping tables, or keeping your own space spotless. It doesn't matter which cleaning tasks you do—just be sure you're doing something to keep the classroom neat, and be sure nobody speaks of the mission.

If another teacher or staff member notices how clean the classroom is and mentions it to your teacher or another adult—without any hints or reminders from you—your class earns a prize.

So get ready, agents. As a class, begin Operation Clean Sweep—and remember: nobody speaks of the mission.
