Writing Prompt: Inside the Video Game

briantolentino.com

Your Mission is this:

Write a short story from the perspective of a character inside a video game.

You are not the player.

You are the character.

That means:

- You don't see a controller.
- You don't know you're in a game.
- This world is real to you.

Step 1: Choose Your Character

Pick one:

- A main character (hero, fighter, survivor)
- A side character (NPC, shopkeeper, guide)
- A background character (villager, enemy, teammate, bystander)

You may base your character on a real video game, but do not retell the game's exact plot.

Create your own moment inside that world.

Step 2: Writing Requirements

Your story must:

- Be written in first person ("I," "me," "my")
- Show how the character thinks and feels
- Include at least one challenge or conflict
- Reveal something the character wants, fears, or questions

Step 3: Include These Elements

Your story must include all of the following:

- Opening Hook – Drop us into the world immediately
- Sensory Detail – Describe a sound, sight, or feeling from the game world
- Internal Thought – What is the character worried or excited about?
- Action Moment – A fight, escape, decision, or turning point
- Reflection – What does this moment teach the character?
