

Name:

Date:

Section:

Score:

briantolentino.com

You're the Principal for a Day... What Would You Do?

You arrive at school one morning expecting a normal day. But when you walk into the front office, something is different.

The secretary hands you a cup of coffee.

Teachers are asking you questions.

Students are waiting outside your office.

Then someone says, "Good morning, Principal!"

You quickly realize something unbelievable: you are the principal for the day.

Now the entire school is looking to you for decisions.

Will you cancel homework?

Will you create new rules?

Will you extend recess?

But beware... being the principal is not as easy as it looks.

Your Task:

Write a story about your day as the principal.

Include:

- One new rule you create for the school
- One big problem you must solve
- A surprising ending

