

There, Their, They're

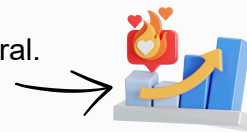

(TikTok Edition)

TikTok

Read the passage below about TikTok. Every blank is missing either there, their, or they're. Your job is to fill in the correct word in each blank.

One reason TikTok became so popular is because (1) _____ are endless videos to watch. Students open the app for “just five minutes,” and suddenly (2) _____ still scrolling an hour later. Many creators spend hours editing (3) _____ videos, hoping one of them goes viral.

Some users dance in (4) _____ bedrooms while others film videos outside because (5) _____ trying to get better lighting. A lot of influencers believe (6) _____ success depends on consistency, creativity, and luck. If viewers enjoy the content, (7) _____ more likely to share it with friends.

Teachers often complain that students lose focus because (8) _____ constantly checking TikTok during class. Yet many educators admit (9) _____ are useful educational creators on the platform too. Some science teachers post experiments, and (10) _____ students actually learn from them.

One reason trends spread so quickly is because (11) _____ easy to copy what someone else created. A person watches a funny video, adds (12) _____ own twist, and reposts it. Before long, (13) _____ are thousands of versions of the same trend floating around online.

Some parents worry about how much time kids spend on the app because (14) _____ concerned about attention spans. Others argue that every generation has (15) _____ own form of entertainment. Years ago, people blamed television and video games. Now TikTok gets the blame.

At the end of the day, TikTok is simply a tool. How people use it depends on (16) _____ habits, choices, and self-control. If users are thoughtful, (17) _____ can be positive experiences on the app. But if (18) _____ glued to the screen all day, (19) _____ is probably a problem.
